Invented neutral sources; read learner prompts one short part at a time.

SOURCE 1 · SPOT ONE

SOURCE 2 · SPOT TWO

KEY: rectangle = pad; triangles = holders; tall box = screen.

SOURCE 1 · SPOT ONE

SOURCE 2 · SPOT TWO

“Paper Lantern Bay, Spot Two: the rectangle pad and two triangle holders are shown. The first has three diamond marks; the second has two dot marks. This is another view of the same invented scene.”

SOURCE 3 · TWO OWN REASONS

“Rin says: The pad matters to me for drawing paper patterns. Teo says: The holder matters to me for finding my paper patterns. Each gives their own reason.”

SOURCE 4 · ARI'S REQUEST

“Keep pattern pages on the pad. Ask me before moving holders or the screen. This is a request, not a use report.”

SOURCE 5 · MIRO'S MODEL REPORT

“Before one model try, my paper guide was visible. In that try, a paper cover hid its corner. I have not tried this in a real place.”
