

Two own place reasons · C

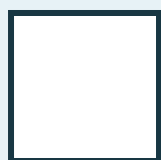

Invented particular-person meanings. Keep each speaker attached to their feature and words.

C1 · EDDA SAYS

“The board matters to me because I show my paper drawings there. This is my own reason.”

C2 · FINN SAYS

“The table matters to me because I talk about picture pages there. This is my own reason.”

BOARD · EDDA

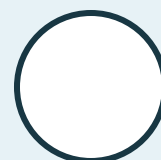

TABLE · FINN

MAKE TWO SOURCE FLAPS

One person's reason stays their own. Other people's reasons stay open. No personal disclosure is required.
