

One sheet, then two

The model supports reasoning about these supplied rows.

FICTIONAL MODEL · THESE RESULTS ARE INVENTED

Same supplied target, viewing place and room light.

Change: one white sheet becomes two stacked sheets.

A real sample can give a different or unclear result.

What changed? What can these two rows tell us?